The list of circumstances in which the limited property value is required to be established at a level or percentage of full cash value that is comparable to that of other properties of the same or a similar use or classification is modified. For property that has been modified by construction, destruction or demolition, the requirement applies only if the total added value of the modification, net of any destruction or demolition, is equal to or greater than 20 percent of the full cash value in the current tax year, except that a modification for the purpose of tenant improvements, deferred maintenance, repair or replacement of an improvement or compliance with current building codes since the preceding valuation year is excluded for the calculation. For property that has been split or consolidated from January 1 through September 30 of the valuation year, the requirement does not apply if the total overall full cash value change is equal to or less than 20 percent of the split or consolidated parcels. Property that has been subdivided is removed from the list of properties to which the requirement may apply. ### S1271: PURCHASER DWELLING ACTIONS; NOTICE; COMPLAINTS

Various changes relating to dwelling actions filed by a purchaser. A seller who receives a written notice of the basis of a dwelling action is required to forward a copy of the notice by certified mail, return receipt requested, to the last known address of each construction professional who the seller reasonably believes is responsible for an alleged defect that is specified in the notice. The seller's construction professional is added to the process for the right to repair and replace a construction defect. Retroactive to July 1, 2019, for each construction defect found to exist, the trier of fact in any dwelling action is required to first determine and identify each party or third-party defendant whose conduct caused, in whole or in part, the construction defect. If the trier of fact determines that a third-party defendant caused a construction defect, the trier of fact is required to determine the relative degree of fault of any party or of any nonparties, and is required to allocate the pro rata share of liability based on relative degree of fault. The determination of whether a construction defect exists and which party or third-party defendant has caused the defect must be bifurcated from and take place in a separate phase of the trial or alternative dispute resolution process from the determination of the relative degree of fault of any party or of any nonparties, unless the court for good cause finds that bifurcation is not appropriate. Also, a "construction contract" or "architect-engineer professional service contract" (both defined) involving a dwelling that purports to insure, to indemnify or to hold harmless the promisee from or against liability for loss or damage is against the public policy of this state and is void to the extent that it purports to do so. ### S1397: REGISTRAR OF CONTRACTORS OMNIBUS

Of the monies collected by the ROC, 90 percent must be deposited in the ROC Fund and 10 percent must be deposited in the general fund, instead of 100 percent being deposited in the ROC Fund. The list of persons not required to be licensed as a contractor is modified. A person applying for a contractor license or for renewal of a contractor license to engage in residential contracting is required to pay an assessment of up to $600

during the biennial license period for deposit in the Residential Contractors' Recovery Fund (RCR Fund). Some exceptions. Statute governing eligibility for awards from the RCR Fund are repealed and replaced. An award from the RCR Fund is limited to residential real properties. The RCR Fund is prohibited from exceeding the actual damages suffered by the claimant as a direct result of a contractor's violation, and the maximum individual award from the RCR Fund is $30,000. An action for a judgment that may subsequently result in an order for collection from the RCR Fund cannot be commenced later than two years after the date of the commission of the act by the contractor that is the cause of the injury or from the date of occupancy. If a contractor license has been revoked or suspended as a result of an order to remedy a violation of statute, the ROC is permitted to order payment from the RCR Fund to remedy the violation. The ROC is authorized to issue cease and desist orders or a citation for contracting practicing or transacting that constitutes a violation of statute or rule. ### Bill Summaries

H2072: CIVIL FORFEITURE; CRIMINAL CONVICTION

Various changes relating to forfeiture. At a judicial forfeiture proceeding, it is presumed that a claimant's interest in property is exempt from forfeiture and the burden of establishing that the claimant's property should be forfeited is on the state, instead of on the claimant. Statute governing uncontested civil forfeitures is repealed. If property is seized through forfeiture, the defendant or any other person who has an ownership interest in the property may request a pretrial hearing to determine the validity of the seizure, the validity of the claimant's alleged interest in the seized property and whether the court should grant a writ of replevin or another remedy. The court is required to grant the claimant's motion for replevin if the court finds that any of a list of specified circumstances applies. Following a person's conviction for a criminal offense that provides for forfeiture, the court is permitted to order the person to forfeit property that was acquired through the commission of the offense, property that is directly traceable to property acquired through the commission of the offense, and any instrumentality the person used in the commission of the offense. If a conviction is not possible due to the person's death, incompetence or not being within the jurisdiction of the court, the property or interest in the property may be forfeited without a conviction. For the purpose of the criminal code, "racketeering" is modified to mean only criminal acts that result in a conviction and that meet other aspects of the definition, instead of any act that is chargeable or indictable.
